The Zine Prompt Deck: 96 Ideas

Cut the cards apart, shuffle, and pick one. Every prompt is small enough to finish as a one-sheet mini zine in an afternoon.

INSIDE

- 96 prompts on cut-apart cards, sorted into 8 themes, including two new themes for classrooms and group zines
- 12 constraint cards to pair with any prompt
- A one-page guide to shrinking any idea into eight pages
- A roll-two-dice prompt generator

These pages accompany The Complete Zine Making Handbook (Quillfold Studio Handbooks, Book 1) by Margo Quillfold. You may print and photocopy them for your own zines and for non-commercial classes, libraries and workshops. Please do not sell or re-post the files; share the link quillfold.studio/bonuses instead.
Paper size of this file: US Letter. Print at Actual size / 100%, not "Fit to page", unless a page says otherwise. Edition 1 · November 2026.

HOW TO USE THE DECK

Shrink any idea into eight pages

A prompt is a door, not a brief. The trick is to make it smaller until you can picture all eight pages at once.

Page	Its job	Example: "Benches, rated"
1 · Cover	Title, one strong image, your name	"BENCHES OF ELM STREET", a drawing of the best one
2–3	The hook: why this, why now	"I sat on every bench in a mile. Here is what I learned."
4–5	The heart: one idea per page	The top three benches, drawn and scored
6–7	Payoff, twist, or what to try next	The worst bench; a map so readers can try the route
8 · Back	Credits, date, contact, price or "free"	"Made by Sam, spring 2026. Trade me!"

THREE WAYS TO SHRINK A PROMPT

- Narrow the time: not "my family", but "Sunday dinner at my aunt's".
- Narrow the place: not "my town", but "one street, end to end".
- Count it: eight pages, eight things. Lists are the easiest zine structure there is.

Roll for a prompt

Roll one die for the theme (1 About you, 2 How-to, 3 Your place, 4 Fandom, 5 Ideas and causes, 6 Art and play) and pick any card from that theme. Roll again for a constraint card: 1–2 none, 3–6 draw one. Teachers can swap in the Classroom or Together themes for 5 and 6.

PRINTING THE CARDS

Print the card pages single-sided on card or heavy paper (up to about 200 gsm / 110 lb cover if your printer takes it), cut along the grey lines, and keep the deck in an envelope with a blank sheet of paper for the next zine.
